

HASEP WOOD

Claddings

We can produce claddings, which have a wider area of use, from almost all tree species. Some of the products that you can use both indoors and exteriors are available in our stock. We can make special production for you from the lumber we have for your special projects. You can get information about our cladding types by calling our company or on our website.